Farmers Advised Select Seed Now

By GEORGE HAMRICK
Farmers should check into their seed what purchased right away. It will be a few weeks before you will be sowing wheat, however there are several new varieties on the market that are doing a good job, and seed of these varieties may be hard to find.

To assure yourself of what you want, decide now on a variety

LOVELAND—Mrs. Donna Alt, 17, sits pensively with her books in Loveland, O., where she said she would sue the school board to force her admittance to her senior year of high school. She married U.S. Army Pfc. Ted Alt, 21, in May, and the school has a rule barring married students. Alt is stationed in France, has a six-year hitch.

New Polio Case Total Surges Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—New polio cases surged last week to a 1960 weekly high of 217, including 118 paralytic cases.

Reporting this today, the Public Health Service said these figures compared with 148 cases, including 88 paralytic in the preceding week.

The previous 1960 weekly high was 155 cases, including 98 paralytic, in the week ended Aug. 20. However, the total still was far below those of last year. In the week ended Sept. 5, 1959, there were 4,091 and 1,283.

From Jan. 1 through Sept. 3 this year there were 1,601 polio cases, including 1,077 paralytic. Last year in the comparative 35 weeks there were 4,441 cases, including 2,824 paralytic. The comparative totals in 1958 were 2,505 and 1,206 and in 1957 there were 4,091 and 1,283.

that you like and buy it now.

LaPorte, Lucas and Vermillion are all relatively new varieties. LaPorte was released in 1957. It is variety and resistant to loose smut and to powdery mildew. It is a winter hardy, medium tall, beardless variety. LaPorte is just medium in straw strength, but has good milling quality and test weight.

Lucas wheat was released in 1957. It is stiff strawed, beardless, high yielding and has exceptional high bushel weight. It does outyield several of the standard varieties.

Vermillion is the other new variety released in 1956. It is moderately stiff strawed, medium short, high yielding, beardless. The grain has good test weight and excellent quality. Vermillion is more winter hardy than most varieties and should be used especially in late plantings.

DUAL wheat has considerable resistance to hessian fly and can be sown before fly free date. This is the only variety that has any resistance whatsoever to hessian fly.

Butler is the only beardless variety recommended. It is high yielding, stiff strawed, has excellent winterhardness and good bushel weight.

Seneca and Thorne are two of our older varieties, and they have been good ones, but with many of the newer approved varieties now available it appears that the demand for Seneca and Thorne will decrease, particularly Thorne because Seneca itself is an improved Thorne Cross.

It's important to give serious consideration to the variety you use. Ohio has developed quite a reputation for high quality soft wheat. It's much in demand in the milling and baking industry. Let's not ruin this reputation by seeding an inferior type wheat.

Do You Know

To maintain our present high standard diet, United States farmers by 1957 must produce: 3 per cent more eggs, 61 per cent more broilers, 56 per cent more meat animals, 60 per cent more fruit and vegetables, 48 per cent more dairy products and 26 per cent more grain and potatoes.

Farmers produce 57 per cent of the raw materials for industry.

One man today can harvest 80 acres of asparagus — a job which formerly required 15 men.

Vo-Ag Classes On Increase

Series of Stories To Explain Work

The two vocational Agriculture departments in the County have entered another year with increased enrollments over past years.

The department at Walnut Township school reports an enrollment of thirty seven for an increase of six. This department is under the supervision of C. D. Bennett, Principle, and Gene Houser, the instructor. Houser is starting his third year of teaching at Walnut.

The Jackson Department is under the supervision of J. R. Brown, principal, and Hillis Hall, instructor. Hall reports an enrollment of thirty-two for an increase of four over last year.

You will have noticed the emblem at the head of this article. An explanation of this emblem will be given in one of these articles to be found, one each week, while school is in session. This series of articles will also explain what Vocational Agriculture is; what the students are doing at different times, and the many values to be gained by boys who are enrolled in Vocational Agriculture as well as the community itself.

Walnut school has a full time department, the ninth and tenth grades are separated but the eleventh and twelfth grades are united. Each group receives 90 minutes of instruction daily.

Hall, at Jackson, is on three quarter time. His groups include ninth and tenth grades combined as well as the eleventh and twelfth. The seventh and eighth grades each receive 45 minutes of instruction in shop each day. Hall starts his 18th year at Jackson.

Arlington Burial Awaits Ohio Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Second Lt. Charles W. Turvey of Reesville, Ohio, and S. Sgt. Howard A. Wandke of Toledo, Ohio, will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery Oct. 3 along with three of their comrades who perished in the crash of a B-24 bomber in the high sierras of California in 1943.

The plane's wreckage and the bodies of its six crewmen were found by a forest ranger last July at an elevation of 11,400 feet in Kings Canyon National Park. The remains of the sixth airman, the only one for which a positive individual identification was possible, have been sent to Rutland, Vt., for burial.

Ex-Porter Travels In Own Private Car

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Southern Pacific streamliner Lark pulled in Thursday towing exporter William Tyler's private car.

After an 8,000-mile trip, Tyler had spent $18,000 of the $140,000 Irish sweepstakes winnings which financed the journey. It was worth it, said Tyler, 78 who told newsmen: "The United States — it's wonderful!"

In his 25-year Pullman porter career Tyler traveled widely but saw little because he was too busy.

"This time it was different," he said. He and his wife and six friends visited New Orleans, Niagara Falls, New York, Chicago and finally San Francisco in the private car. It was attached usually at the rear of the trains.

FARM

Corn, Soybean Field Day Thursday at OSU Farm

The Ohio State University and the Agriculture Experiment Station have scheduled a Corn & Soybean Field Day Thursday. The Field Day will be held at the Ohio State University Farm. The University Farm is located on Kenny Road and Lane Ave., just west of the Ohio State University Campus.

Tours of the Agronomy plots will be conducted from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. Visitors will see studies on minimum tillage, plant spacing, intercropping, row placement of fertilizer, soybean varieties, nitrogen placement of corn, corn hybrid demonstrations, weed control in soybeans and corn and soybean harvesting operations.

The machinery aspect of the field day will devote time to soybean harvesting, ear corn harvesting, shelled corn harvesting and silage harvesting.

Methods used to test the performance of combines for harvesting soybeans and results over the past four years will be discussed.

Visitors will be able to decide which concept in Corn Picker design will save the most corn, yield the cleanest grain and allow the least shelled corn in the wagon. There will be an evaluation of the four ideas in corn picker design.

IN THE whole plant or silage harvesting exhibit, observers will see the comparative performance of a flail-type harvester, a cylinder cut and throw machine and a flywheel cut and throw machine. Samples from each type machine will be on display. Effects of length of cut upon quality and power requirements, effects of speed forward, travel upon length of cut and other factors will be discussed.

The Pickaway County Extension Office (Phone GR 4-5828) is making transportation plans for this field day. Persons interested in the field day should contact the Extension Office. The group will leave from the Extension Office at 8 a. m. Thursday.

delivers a faster drying-cooling cycle

The Big Four in "Devil Wind" Action spell profit to Cross Grain Dryer owners — (1) big, silent, centrifugal fan; (2) external mounted "easy-light" burner; (3) telescoping plenum chamber; and (4) descending pressure cap. These components create specified low-drying heat blended with massive air delivery to the plenum chamber. The descending cap maintains steady grain distribution during shrinkage.

Swine Farmers To Go on Tour

Clinton County Visit Included

All Pickaway County Swine farmers are invited to participate in a scheduled Swine Tour Tuesday.

This tour will be held in Clinton County (Wilmington) 50 miles west of Circleville. The tour will include four farm visits with operations described as follows.

The first stop will be at the Broad Meadow Farms. This farm has a 40 unit farrowing barn, and uses automatic feed processing and feeding operations. This farm also uses a pig nursery.

The tour will then proceed to the Robert Terrell farm to observe a 300 head covered feeding floor, liquid manure handling bulk feed operation and high pressure water cleaning. The third stop will be at the Herbert Dooks Farm. This farm operates with a 12 unit farrowing setup, a new nursery barn, and high pressure cleaning. The last stop will be the Tom McMillan Farm. McMillan uses a covered feeding floor, high pressure system, and one of the very new manure lagoons.

PICKAWAY County Farmers that wish to attend this tour should contact the County Extension Office, Phone GR 4-5828.

Car pools will be formed and the group will plan to leave the Extension Office at 8:30 a. m. For farmers that would rather meet the group in Williamsport the group will pick them up at the David Davies Yards at Williamsport at 8:45 a. m. The entire group will then proceed to the J. Denver Williams Memorial Park, at the East City limits of Wilmington on State Routes 22 and 3. The tour of the farms will begin from this park at 10 a. m.

The league engages in a worldwide ministry of free distribution of Christian literature, which is sent into 110 nations and provinces in scores of languages. This international Christian literature agency is supplying missionaries of more than 100 mission boards and societies with evangelical literature.

Mr. Skipper will be telling of the need for good Christian literature in many areas of the world to help combat communism.

He is also the featured soloist on the BML's weekly radio broadcast and will be singing in this service.

Ike OKs Bills Hiking Foreign Aid Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed bills providing an extra $65 million in foreign aid funds and calling for a special aid program for Latin America.

Eisenhower had asked Congress to restore the full $559,354,000 it trimmed from the foreign aid program before enacting it. But Congress never came near that figure.

The additional money pushes the final compromise appropriation for the foreign aid program to $3,787,350,000.

The extra $65 million is tagged for defense support.

The Latin-American aid bill authorizes in principle a $600-million special program.

South Africa Missionary Speaks Here

Miss Ruth Matchett, Nazarene missionary in South Africa, will speak at the worship service at

MISS RUTH MATCHETT

10:30 a. m. Sunday at the Church of the Nazarene.

Since 1955, she has been stationed at a hospital in Acornhoek, Eastern Transvaal. Among duties, she has been in charge of nurses training, supervised the native nurses home, and surgery. She also has held services at two out points on Sundays and one has become an organized church with a native pastor.

In missionary messages, she will tell about the country, people and show pictures.

A native of Ohio, Miss Matchett attended Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., and completed nurses training at the Samaritan hospital in Nampa, Idaho.

She was on private nursing duty prior to being assigned to Africa by the Department of Foreign Missions in 1947. She also has worked at Bremersdorp and Stegi in South Africa. Her previous furlough home was in 1953.

Next Friday Marks Anniversary Of Letter Starting: 'Greetings!'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For thousands of Ohio men, next Friday marks the 20th anniversary of a date that changed their lives—and in many cases shaped them for years to come.

It was on that date—Sept. 16, 1940 that President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed into law the first peacetime conscription act in our history, and issued a proclamation calling for registration of all male persons between the ages of 21 and 35.

It sent thousands of Ohioans swarming into military camps hardly ready to receive them, either with permanent quarters or equipment—but for most it was only the beginning of some long years away from home and hard campaigning in a world war that had not yet begun.

Sixteen and a half million Americans signed a registration card in answer to the call. About a half million Ohioans were inducted into all branches of the service between November 1940 and October Training and Service Act.

All this week, the selective service system will be celebrating the 20th anniversary of its founding as a governmental agency directly answerable to the president. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has proclaimed Sept. 16 to be Selective Service Day in Ohio, and in celebration of the day, 132 local boards will be open to the public.

The pros and cons of the value of the system have been discussed by leading statesmen since the law was enacted. Proponents of the system claim that one reason for current peacetime conscription dates back to 1945. In that year there was a national clamor for the early discharge of returned veterans, almost 15 million of whom had served in uniform during World War II. As a result there was a wholesale discharge of service personnel. Less than a year later the armed forces found that they had fallen 20 per cent below the authorized peacetime strength. In order to maintain this strength Congress was forced to pass a peacetime draft.

A second reason for compulsory recruiting was the psychological problem of enlistment. State selective service headquarters' charts have shown that there must be a stimulus to maintain a minimum security force and selective service provides that stimulus. When inductions are high enlistments soar, and when inductions are low, or are cut off, the services are not able to meet their requirements.

The idea of the modern selective service system began as far back as 1926 under the old National Defense Act when a committee formed under the secretaryship of the then Maj. Lewis B. Hershey drew up the idea of community draft boards manned by uncompensated neighbors of the men eligible for service. Within two months after the selective training and service act passed, the first inductees began reporting to military camps.

In all, 10 million men were inducted into all branches of the service between November 1940 and October 1946.

In 1947 the draft act was permitted to expire, but a selective service records organization was authorized to retain the "know-how" of the system.

Less than a year later the armed services found they could not maintain their reduced peacetime strength. The Army alone required 30,000 new enlistments each month but had been getting only 12,000 to 20,000.

By March 1, 1948, they were 129,000 below strength in this one branch. In September, Congress put selective service back in business and after just one draft call by the newly organized local boards enlistments jumped to 35,000 a month.

While critics of the selective service system have pictured it as a completely undemocratic way of maintaining the strength of the armed forces, proponents have argued that in the past it has spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

It has also been held that at present, the system represents the strongest argument for encouraging our allies to maintain their strength and in the future prove to be a cheap insurance of preventing the next Korea from turning into a Waterloo.

Whims of Carelessness

There is no such thing as an accident, says an assistant surgeon general of the Public Health Service — only premeditated acts of carelessness. If this term is confusing, it is because people never thought an act performed carelessly could be considered premeditated.

It is satisfying to the ego to explain an accident as something that "just happened" — even though it was caused by a human act. But the fact that it was human motivation which caused it removes it from the accident category.

Two hypothetical situations illustrate the difference. A person may be indicted for murder for deliberately shooting another, but a person who deliberately points an "empty" weapon at another and shoots him may be freed of any responsibility. The only factor missing in the same case is the intent to harm. Otherwise, all physical actions are the same.

There is no law that requires human beings to use common sense, even such elementary sense as knowing better than to play with a dangerous weapon. Very often he is not held accountable for his actions — lethal though they may be — if he can convince a jury it was an "accident."

Dr. Albert L. Chapman of the Public Health Service has begun a campaign he optimistically hops will sufficiently arouse the public to the dangers of accidents. Not only are accidents a leading cause of death and injury, they are equally deadly to the innocent bystander. More times than not, victims of accidents are struck down at the whim of someone else's carelessness.

Dr. Chapman has as his campaign credo, "accidents don't happen — they are caused by what people do or fail to do." Convincing every person of the applicability of these few words is as important as impressing upon them the dangers and safeguards for cancer and heart disease.

Accident safeguards are easier to apply. Every individual can do it with much less discomfort than is likely to result if he does not.

As Our Partners See Us

By George Sokolsky

Usually British journalists who come to this country write about us as though we were Fiji islanders or Congolese; in fact, they show more understanding looking down their noses that they do not see what is before them. Too often about all they see is that New Yorkers or Washingtonians are different from Londoners.

There are, of course, exceptions. Perhaps the greatest correspondent Great Britain ever sent us was Sir William Lewis who was ennobled in both countries was enormous. And he was as knowledgeable in American affairs as any American newspaperman.

Recently Peregrine Worsthorne came to the United States for "The Daily Telegraph and Morning Post" of London and he has done a series of articles about us which are particularly noteworthy and worthwhile. He arrived when a daily newspaper and a weekly magazine were producing some froth about our "national purpose" — an ambiguous and purposeless phrase. Of this, Worsthorne wrote: "I cannot pretend that I actually asked any Americans about this, because to my mind the phrase is obviously reminiscent of those societies — Communist, Fascist and Caesarist — which dress up a diet of propaganda dust and ashes with a high-sounding sauce called 'the national purpose'."

Quite so. Unless the journalist wandered among the self-anointed Park Avenue intellectuals who constitute a tiny segment of American life — but a very noisy one — he would find few Americans who wondered about our national purpose. Instead he saw substantial Americans and came to this conclusion:

"Here, it seemed to me, was a society in which men and women, families and communities, are realizing the good life not in the past or the future, not in slogans or statistics, not in terms of ideology and propaganda, but actually on the ground, in their flesh and blood lives here and now. They are so busy living that they have no time for political oratory. Having got to the heart of the package they can afford to throw away the tinsel wrapping. For them Christmas day is over. The dazzling gifts have passed into everyday life."

This is, of course, the richness of American material life unequalled anywhere. Worsthorne captured something else. Experts tell us the United States is a land of promise and expanding production. Other experts tell us that America is a land of disappointment and contraction.

Experts tell us that the Soviet Union is a land of promise and expanding production. Other experts tell us that America is a land of disappointment and contraction. All I can say is: "Pity the country whose glories only experts can detect, and envy the country whose faults it takes an expert to discover."

This panegyric might do the British some good, for just as it is used to be popular for Americans to twist the lion's tale, so, in recent years, has it been the habit of British journalists to pluck the feathers of the American eagle. It is not usual for a British writer to capture the spirit of the American people — a spirit which is overclouded by the defeatism of certain internationalist groups in this country who, having become Russophiles, are discouraged that Russians did not prove out to be the savior of civilization. And for that they blame the United States.

Again, this writer has caught something of the richness of American family life — which is the spiritual basis of our society.

"Traveling through the Middle West by Greyhound bus I was invited by my neighbor to stop over for the night at his small suburban home. He was a travelling salesman — by our classifications distinctly lower — middle — class — who had for some months been saving up to buy a small yacht. The next morning he took his family and me for a sail on Lake Michigan. There was nothing 'materialistic' about the joy and spiritual release, the surge of the spirit, which sailing afforded that family. As a result of their prosperity they — and millions like them — are experiencing a new depth to life."

He concludes: "... These families were not wallowing in a pig trough. They were drinking at the fountains of their national heritage."

I could go on quoting from these articles. Suffice it that this writer captured something about this country that others have missed. He travelled about where he could meet Americans, not those who follow the seasons internationally. He ought to come again and see more of us. We need such interpreters of our ways, particularly among the British who are our partners, for better or for worse.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five years ago tonight was one of the unforgettable times for me. Sen. Huey P. Long was dying in a hospital in Baton Rouge, La. It was an uneasy city.

Long had been shot the night before, Sunday, Sept. 8, 1935. Dr. Carl Austin Weiss has been called the assassin. This has never been proved beyond doubt. There was an autopsy. The coroner's inquest was a fast, brief routine.

There is still a question whether one of the Long bodyguards excitedly and accidentally shot Long when he saw Weiss approaching with a gun.

At the time of the shooting I was in New Orleans, working on the Times-Picayune, and immediately afterwards was sent to Baton Rouge to join the T-P staff which was working on the Legislature when Long was shot.

None of us got sleep Sunday night, or Monday night. Monday night Long began slipping. I was sent over to the hospital just before midnight to join an Associated Press reporter and a girl reporter for the Baton Rouge papers.

We had phones in a small room off the lobby of Our Lady of the Lake Sanitarium. Long's room was upstairs on the second floor. The three of us had been warned by Long's bodyguards not to try to go up those stairs.

There must have been 40 bodyguards, all with guns, in the lobby. Outside another 10 or 12 of them shouldered to shoulder across the top step of the hospital.

All through the night another pair of bodyguards made endless rounds of doors and windows in the basement and upstairs, to make sure no one could slip in to kill Long in his bed.

The Long people didn't know whether Weiss was acting on his own when he went up to Long with a gun that Sunday night or whether he was part of a conspiracy to kill the senator.

We didn't try the stairs. We knew better. Over the years of the Long regime—in which he controlled the courts, or some of them, the Legislature, the State Police, and some district attorneys—the senator's bodyguards had smashed newsmen's faces and heads.

Only a short time before one of those bodyguards making the rounds of doors and windows had fractured an Associated Press photographer's skull with a black-jack and was never prosecuted.

About 2 a.m. Tuesday the bodyguards in the lobby were nervous and agitated. A nurse had come down and said Long was going, that the doctors were giving him adrenalin.

About 3 a.m. Long's family and some of his top lieutenants came in quickly and went upstairs. About 4 a.m. one of the upstairs bodyguards came down and whispered to the girl reporter. I tried to hear. He said: "Get back you."

I got back. Then I heard him say Long had just died. I ran for the stairs. It was a reflex action. I couldn't phone that Long was dead with nothing to go on but a whisper. I had to go up to his room to verify it.

But that reflex action, made in forgetfulness of the warning not to go near the stairs, has scared me about my own reflex actions ever since. Suddenly all the bodyguards were running for the stairs.

Then the fright set in. I thought "here's where I get it." But I was near the stairs. I couldn't turn back. The bodyguards were all around. They had me squeezed in. I thought "what a way to get it."

And just as suddenly the guards melted away and let me through. I went up the stairs, walking, no longer running, the bodyguards walking slowly behind me, not interfering.

What happened to them at that moment when they had me surrounded and then let me through I can't be sure. They used to keep in shape beating up newspapermen. Maybe they realized the boss was dead and they didn't have anything more to do. Maybe something else. Maybe they suddenly realized the one man who had always stood between them and punishment for their violence was gone and they were defenseless. I don't know. For that one moment the fight went out of the Long machine.

It came back later when Huey's brother, Earl who died last Sunday, became governor. But that moment when I reached the stairs with the bodyguards was the end of an era, before the second one began.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

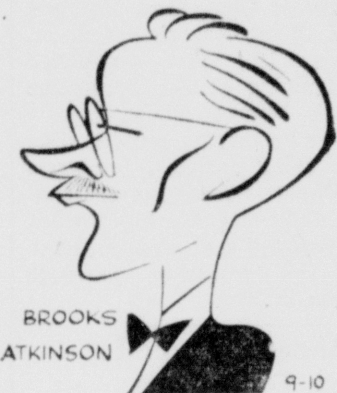

BROOKS ATKINSON, retiring drama critic of the New York Times, and one of the best loved men in the history of the theater, has named the 15 musical shows of the past three decades he considers the very best. They are, in chronological order:

Show Boat, Of Thee I Sing, Music In The Air, Porgy and Bess, Lady in the Dark, Oklahoma, Carousel, Annie Get Your Gun, Kiss Me Kate, South Pacific, Guys and Dolls, Wonderful Town, My Fair Lady, West Side Story, and The Music Man.

I believe a good repertoire company could keep a big New York theater filled to capacity for years by simply alternating these 15 superlative productions.

An Israeli transatlantic jet plane had to turn back to Tel Aviv airport after being two hours out over the ocean. A quick witted stewardess soon calmed the passengers, however. "It's nothing to worry about," she told them. "We forgot the pickles."

Ohio Political Party Chiefs Making Plans for Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) has endorsed Democratic candidates for U.S. House seats in all but eight of Ohio's 23 congressional districts.

COPE withheld endorsements in those eight districts—the 1st, 2nd, 9th, 17th, 20th, 21st, 22nd and 23rd—until local groups in those areas meet and submit their recommendations to the state organization.

But COPE chose Democrats, including four incumbents, over their Republican opposition in 15 districts after commenting that Ohio "is still represented by too many conservatives in the U.S. House of Representatives."

The committee statement continued: "The majority of Ohio congressmen — primarily the Republican members of the Ohio delegation — continue their opposition to proper care for the aged, adequate minimum wage, housing and other wholesome social legislation. They are out of step with the times and unaware of the needs of the people."

COPE urged election of more liberal congressmen from Ohio to continue what it called a trend that started in 1958.

It unanimously concurred in the national AFL-CIO's endorsement of Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy for president, saying his election would be "in the best interests of the United States and of the labor movement."

COPE, made up of some 150 union representatives from throughout the state, met here Thursday to decide on its endorsements of statewide and congressional candidates in the Nov. 8 election.

In three contests for the Ohio Supreme Court, COPE endorsed two Republicans and one Democrat.

It recommended election of Supreme Court Judge John W. Peck of Cincinnati over his Republican opponent, former Gov. C. William O'Neill, after commenting:

"A candidate who showed the anti-labor bias that O'Neill did in supporting the so-called 'right-to-work' amendment in 1958 could not be expected to consider labor cases as a judge in an objective and unbiased manner."

In the other two Supreme Court races, COPE endorsed Judge Kingsley A. Taft, a Republican, over Democrat Joseph H. Ellison, and GOP candidate Earl R. Hoover of Cleveland over Judge James F. Bell, Democrat.

Republican incumbent State Auditor James A. Rhodes and his Democratic opponent, James D. Ferguson of Columbus, son of the state treasurer, both received COPE endorsement.

Hoffa Loses Bid To Bar Monitor

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals has declined to block the appointment of Terence F. McShane, a one-time FBI agent, as chief monitor of the Teamsters Union.

The court action Wednesday was a setback for James R. Hoffa, president of the big union of truck drivers. Hoffa has fought the monitors since they were named to supervise his union nearly three years ago.

The appeals court in effect ruled that it should not act now until such time as McShane might actually be appointed chairman of the three-man monitor board. Hoffa was left free to challenge him again then.

THEY LIKE KENNEDY, APPARENTLY—It's an enthusiastic crowd in downtown Seattle, Wash., and everybody's trying to shake hands with candidate John F. Kennedy. Said he to them, the next President "will be compelled to submit to the next Congress a new set of military goals. We must put more of our B-52s into the air to guard against attack."

Ohio Political Machines Ready for Massive Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After a post-convention lull, the massive battle for Ohio's 23 presidential electoral votes, for control of its congressional delegation and for domination of the Ohio Legislature will be joined this coming week.

The Republicans will attack first in their one-day state convention in Columbus Monday.

The Democrats will counterattack with their own state convention next Friday and Saturday, also in the capital city.

Then the great eight-week campaign of 1960 will be in full swing, a battle that will continue without respite until the polls close at 6:30 p. m. Nov. 8.

Principal function of the state conventions will be to adopt platforms designed to attract voter support. There also will be much campaign oratory intended to galvanize the party faithful into spirited action above and beyond the call of duty.

Ohio Republicans have called upon their vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge, to put the spark in their campaign opener. He will speak Monday evening and his address will be televised statewide on a special network. The GOP conclave will be confined to two sessions, afternoon and evening.

The Ohio Democratic Convention will open with a $10-a-plate banquet Friday evening to hear Sen. Philip A. Hart of Lansing, Mich., deliver the keynote address. Adoption of the state Democratic platform is scheduled for a Saturday afternoon session which will wind up the convention.

Obviously, with an electoral vote bloc as big as Ohio's dangling out there on the end of the limb, neither party is taking anything for granted in the Buckeye State.

Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy already has indicated how hard he is prepared to work for Ohio's 25 electoral votes. His campaign schedule — firm in part and tentative in part—calls for him to spend all or part of eight days in Ohio out of the 58 days which remain before the ballots are counted.

WED AT 87—John G. Gaines, 87, and his bride, the former Mrs. Addie Johnson, 74, start out on the sea of marital bliss after their wedding in Detroit. They were neighbors for 14 years, got lonely and decided to wed.

The infected knee which has hospitalized Richard M. Nixon has thrown the Republican nominee's campaign schedule out of whack. His enforced two-week layoff — during a period in which he probably would have visited a dozen or so of the lesser states—probably will mean that he will be in Ohio less often than his rival.

So far, no Nixon schedule has been announced for Ohio appearances.

Kennedy has scheduled the opening of his Ohio campaign for Saturday, Sept. 24, the place and time unspecified. The following day, he is to appear at a steer roast at Euclid Beach Park in Cleveland sponsored by the Cuyahoga County Democratic Committee. He then will jump to Chicago for a national TV debate with Nixon and return to the Cleveland area Monday night.

Tuesday, Sept. 27, Kennedy has scheduled a breakfast meeting at Painesville, a two-hour motorcade in the Cleveland area a noon meeting at Lorain, possible afternoon appearance at Norwalk and Mansfield, a 6:30 p. m., speech at Akron and an 8:40 p. m. address at Canton.

After a 10-day gap in which the Democratic nominee will be campaigning elsewhere, Kennedy is scheduled to return to Ohio the evening of Thursday, Oct. 6, for a fund-raising dinner in Cincinnati. The following day, he will whistle-stop his way northward with breakfast at Middletown, lunch at Dayton, possible afternoon stops in Fairborn and Springfield and an evening meeting in Columbus.

Another 10-day gap follows with Kennedy's next Ohio appearance scheduled at Youngstown the evening of Monday, Oct. 17. Then, tentatively, Kennedy is scheduled to wind up his Ohio campaign with a two-day sortie into northwestern Ohio with principal appearances Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 26-27 in Lima and Toledo. On one of these nights, the Democratic nominee has tentatively scheduled a national television address.

So far, little is scheduled for the No. 2 men on the national tickets. Lodge, in addition to his address at Monday's GOP convention, is due in the Warren-Youngstown area Friday, Sept. 23.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket, has scheduled an Ohio appearance Thursday, Oct. 20, but neither the time nor the place have been announced.

Castro Admits Rebels at Work

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro admitted today for the first time that bands of guerrillas were operating against his revolutionary regime in the mountains of central Cuba.

He almost casually dismissed the rebels as "little groups" and confidently indicated they were doomed to failure — the firing squad.

There have been unconfirmed reports in Havana that anti-Castro bands totaling from 300 to 1,000 men have been operating in the Escambray Mountains.

Those ranges in central Cuba were the scene of some bitter fighting when Castro's guerrillas were waging a revolution to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista.

Worship Every Week ---

St. Philip's Holds Final Summer Church School Class

The thirteenth Sunday after Trinity will be observed at St. Philip's Episcopal Church with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and morning prayer and sermon at 10 a. m. The Rev. William G. Huber will officiate at both services.

At the late service, L. E. Goeller, Jr., will be layreader, reading the first lesson and leading the congregation in the responsive reading of the psalm for the day. The girls' choir, under the direction of Miss Lois Wittich, will sing "Jacob's Dream" in an arrangement by Ringwald.

The last session of the summer session church school will be held with Robert Hutzelman in charge. All children, seven years old or younger, may attend. There will also be a nursery for small children.

First Baptist

At 9:30 a. m., Sunday school begins. The superintendent, Wayne Koonce, will conduct the opening exercises.

The lesson theme is, "Man's Hope for Peace." The text comes from Isaiah 2:1-4, 9:2-7, and 11:1-9. The scripture teaches that the age we live in will be one of wars, rumors of wars, famines, pestilence, and earthquakes, Matthew 24:6-7. Universal peace will only come when Christ sets His rule over it, Zachariah 14:9. We are commanded to seek, work, and pray for peace, Jeremiah 29:7.

Morning preaching service begins at 10:30 a. m. Special music will be presented by the choir. The pastor, W. A. Baria, will bring the message, "Last Chance for Revival."

Communism started from zero 43 years ago. It now dominates one-third of mankind. The remaining two-thirds have been softened up in varying degrees. Dr. Charles Malik declares, "The International Communist movement wants to overthrow every existing government, regime, economic system, religion, and philosophy and bring the whole world — all human thought, aspiration, action and organization — under its absolute control, with or without war."

Training Union begins at 6:30 p. m. with Charles Bass as director. This service will be followed by the evening service at 7:30 p. m.

Calvary E.U.B.

David Skipper of the Bible Meditation League, will deliver the sermon at the Calvary E. U. B. Church, when the worship service for youth and adults begins at 9 a. m.

The children's department under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen will meet in their classes for the study of the Sunday school lesson at that time.

During the morning worship service the organist, Mrs. Earl Millions, will play the following numbers: prelude, "Finlandia" by Sibelius; offertory, "Old Rugged Cross" by Bennard and postlude, "Triumphal March" by Verdi.

David Skipper will be bringing a special number in song during the service.

The congregational hymns will include: "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy", "O God of Peace" and "Take My Life and Let It Be Consecrated".

Selections from the Psalms will be read responsively by the leader and congregation.

Bruce Weetsee and Robert Pritchard will serve as acolytes.

The young people and adults will go to their classes for study at 10 a. m. The children will convene for their worship service.

Nursery care is provided during Sunday school and morning worship.

Youth Fellowship will meet for the Y-Hour at 6 p. m. in the church annex.

Christian Union

Pastor R. G. Humble will deliver the message in the 10:30 a. m. worship hour at the Church of Christ in Christian Union. Music will include a solo by Patty Moats.

Sunday school will begin at 9:30 a. m. with the adults meeting in the sanctuary under the supervision of William Smith. Mrs. Marvene Rinehart and Mrs. Duhese McCain are superintendents in the children's departments.

Junior worship will be conducted in their auditorium during the adult worship hour.

"At The Crossroads" is the title theme of the program, planned by Elmer Winner for the 6:30 p. m. youth service to be held in the youth chapel.

Men and women are asked to gather in the prayer rooms at 7 p. m. as a preliminary to the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic hour. Special music in this service will be provided by Harold Walters and daughter Patty and by the girls trio composed of Connie Holbrook, Marybelle Ramey and Martha Conrad.

Presbyterian

"Fitting In To God's Purpose" is the theme for the worship hour of 10:30 a. m. at the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Donald Mitchell will develop this theme from the Gospel of Luke, chapter 17.

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, organist, will play for the prelude "Meditation Religieuse" by Blair, MacFarlane's "Adoration" for the offertory and "The Son of God Goes Forth" by Whiting.

The choir will sing as their anthem "Oh, Jesus, Thou Art Standing" by Knecht.

Hymns sung by the congregation will include "This Is The Day", "Love Divine, All Love Excelling".

The regular classes for all ages will meet at 9:30 a. m. in the Sunday school with Ed Grigg general superintendent.

Westminster Fellowship will meet at 7 p. m. in their chapel for devotions. Plans will be discussed for the fall season. Jack Mader will be moderator and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hardy, sponsors.

Trinity Lutheran

Duplicate worship services will be held in Trinity Lutheran Church this thirteenth Sunday after Trinity at 8:30 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. Pastor Carl G. Zehner will present the sermon "The Disturbing Presence" based on Mark 5:1-20.

The youth choir, under the direction of Miss Janet Westrick, will lead the singing at the early service. Miss Westrick will also conduct the adult choir at the 10:45 a. m. service. Miss Westrick is a teacher of music in the Circleville School System receiving her degree in music at Capital University.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann will preside at the organ at both services.

Sunday school will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m.

Services will be held in Christ Church, Lick Run at 2 p. m.

A picture of the attendance will be taken at the morning service by Dwight Radcliff.

Church of Christ

We welcome all to join us in worship this Lord's Day. The message, "The Evil of Covetousness", will be presented, at 10:30 a. m., by Melford Kaehele, preacher.

Whether rightly or not, we all have desires for certain things. The extremity of our desires and the motives for our wants determine whether they are proper or whether they are evils of covetousness.

May we not be as "He that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God" Luke 12:21, but rather, let us heed the Lord and "Seek first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you" Matthew 6:33.

Evening service of song and message will be at 7:45 p. m.

First Methodist

Worship services, in First Methodist Church at 8:30 and 10:45 Sunday will feature "Great Experience".

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will participate in the service by bringing reports on church camp activities during the summer. Church relationships by Stephanie Marion; missions by David McDonald; meaning of camp to the individual by Judy Lawson and fun and fellowship by David Dennis.

Ohio Hepatitis Rate Studied In Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Health Department officials are waiting to see what effect the opening of school will have on Ohio's hepatitis rate. There already are more than twice as many cases as last year.

Hepatitis, also called infectious or "yellow" jaundice, is an inflammation of the liver caused by virus. Bile can't pass out properly and accumulates in the blood stream and tissues, sometimes tinting the victim's skin yellow for the duration of the illness.

The U.S. Public Health Service in Washington announced recently ing the worship service.

Nursery care is provided during both the worship service and Sunday school.

that 1,485 cases were reported in Ohio in the first 33 weeks of 1960 compared with 703 in the same period of 1959. And, Ohio officials point, many cases never are reported.

No 'Bon Voyage!' From HST to Reds

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman had this brief comment today on Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's forthcoming sea trip to the United Nations:

"He can fall in the Atlantic Ocean, as far as I'm concerned." Truman talked with newsmen on his arrival by train.

Dr. Winslow J. Bashe, chief of the health department's communicable Disease Division, said the peak may have been reached last spring. But he said contact between school children may mean more cases.

"It has a three-week incubation period," he said. "We'll just have to wait and see."

U.S. Gold Supply Drops

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in 20 years, the value of the U. S. gold supply has dropped below $19 billion.

Of the 20 tallest buildings in the United States, 19 are located in New York City. The 10th, is the 52-story, 708 foot Terminal Tower in Cleveland.

there's more to be seen...

Deep in the human heart is the desire for greater and wider vision. It prompted early man to climb the trees and to scale the peaks. Every year it lures thousands to the top of the Empire State Building. It inspired the telescope and microscope, and eventually radar.

Similar to this yearning for vision, yet sacred in its powerful prompting, has been man's spiritual quest. Although there is much natural evidence around us to prove there is a God, we want to understand His mind, His power and will . . . His heart!

No human inventions are needed here. In the Church established by Jesus Christ, in the Truth taught by Jesus Christ, in the Life inspired by Jesus Christ — each of us finds that wider vision his soul craves.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mt. Pleasant Plans Stock Sale Dinner

Mt. Pleasant WSCS met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. John Brown, Route 2, with Mrs. Paul Counts, assisting hostess.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Sam Kilien, reading the scripture the 25th Psalm. Mrs. Frank Mace also gave a reading.

The group discussed the stock sale dinner and made plans to have it October 12. A chicken supper was also planned in November.

Mrs. Counts and Mrs. Brown served refreshments to 17 members and five guests. Mrs. Pearl Carter, William Rittinger, Mrs. Clyde Karshner, Jeff and Luann Karshner.

The next meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. October 4 at the church.

Pathfinders Class Reads Bible Verses

The Dorcas Pathfinders Class, of Calvary EUB Church, met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Francis Davis, 126 S. Pickaway St., with 12 members and two guests present.

After the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mark Delong led the devotional period. Each member took part by reading different verses of the Bible which was taken from the church calendar.

The opening song was a recording by Ernie Ford, entitled "I'm Happy All The Day Long." Mrs. Delong read an article on "Christians" followed by the life of Fanny Crosby, author of many gospel songs and poems. Mrs. Delong read one of the poems. At the conclusion, each member was asked to give a testimony of what they had to be thankful for.

A free will offering was taken as a project for September. This money and the money from the treasury were put into the remodeling fund of the church.

A White Elephant Sale will be held at the next meeting at 7:30 p. m. October 6 in the church basement. Mrs. Leona Valentine and Mrs. Myrtle Liest will be the hostesses. Mrs. Talmer Wise will be in charge of devotions.

The game of the evening was won by Mrs. G. H. Neiswender, who was a guest for the evening. Miss Elizabeth Kilber was also a guest.

Salem WCTU Plans Day of Prayer

Salem WCTU met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Mary Harpster, Kngston.

The meeting opened with the group singing, "This Is My Father's World," with Mary Harpster, president, presiding. She gave the devotionals, "Visions For Service," the scripture, Isaiah 6:1-5, and a meditation followed with a prayer.

Mrs. Ed Hinton read the secretary's report and Miss Edna Rice read the treasurer's.

The group decided to set October 5 as the National Day of Prayer.

Two readings were given "Entertain with Drink" by Mrs. Pearl Patrick and "Alcohol Information" by Mrs. Harry Sharrett. The meeting closed with a benediction.

Refreshments were served to seven members.

The next meeting will be held at 2 p. m. in October in the home of Miss Edna Rice, Route 1.

Bible Class Gives Reports At Meeting

The Westminster Bible Class, of the Presbyterian Church, met at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Paul H. Gearheart, Chillicothe.

Mrs. W. L. Mack, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. J. B. Stevenson was in charge of devotions.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were given and thank you cards were read by Mrs. Paul Cromley. Get-well cards were signed by the members and were sent to the members who were not able to attend the meeting.

It was voted by the class to give a gift to Larry L. Thornton, former member of the Presbyterian Church and who now has a pastorate in the Presbyterian Church at Waterman, Ill.

The program consisted of Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Cromley and Mrs. Leslie May giving resumes of their vacations. Mrs. May reported while visiting her sister she attended church, where the Rev. Floyd Logee, former pastor of the Circleville Presbyterian Church was the assistant pastor in a Presbyterian Church at Pompano Beach.

Mrs. Stevenson reminded the members present that Friday would be the first meeting of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church and invited all to come. A carry-in-dinner will start at 12:45 p. m.

Miss Ethel Kiger will be the hostess to the Westminster Bible Class at 7:30 p. m. October 4.

Conservation League Plans Card Party

The Child Conservation League held a carry-in-luncheon Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Henry Swope, 915 Circle Drive, with Mrs. Hiram Hatcher and Mrs. Carl Zehner assisting.

Mrs. James Carr conducted the business meeting with the assistance of her officers, Mrs. Walter Yamrick, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Luna, secretary and Mrs. Glenn McCoy, treasurer.

A short article was read from the constitution by Mrs. Yamrick. Mrs. McCoy issued a complete report for 1960 and 1961 to each of the members and stated that the dues were due.

Mrs. William Blanton gave the Ways and Means Committee report due to the absence of Mrs. Richard Moore.

A charity card party will be held in November at the parish center at the Epic Church and will be open to the public for a donation. A committee chairman was appointed for the card party. Mrs. William Spreague will be chairman of the prizes. The remaining committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

The members were reminded to bring clothing to the meeting October 4 for the Lowery Lane Mission. Mrs. James Yost will be the hostess for the meeting. The guest speaker will be Miss Alice Huff, who will speak on the "Progress of the Mission".

Kennedy Family Elects Officers At Reunion

The annual Kennedy reunion was held Sunday at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. A dinner was held at the noon hour with 50 persons present.

The afternoon was spent in listening to a message given by the Rev. James S. Patterson from Carmel Chapel, Laurelvile.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Raymond Swackhamer, president; Willard England, vice president and Halie England, secretary and treasurer.

Those present were from: Lancaster, Circleville, Amanda, Baltimore, Ashville Granville, Stoutsville, Kingston, Laurelvile, Cincinnati, Chicago and Columbus.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kennedy, Mrs. Mary Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Dorsey and son, Mr. and Mrs. Willard England and Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. Roy England, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Swackhamer, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Kennedy and daughters, Mrs. Dale Kennedy and son, Mrs. Ola Clendenen.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. David Philip and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Kennedy and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy.

Clinton Young was the oldest man and Mrs. Syl Courtney was the oldest woman present. Michael Schultz, eight months, was the youngest child.

Quick conapess: mash hard cooked eggs fine and season with salt and pepper and a little mayonnaise; spread on squares of thin buttered toast and garnish with anchovies or sliced pimiento-stuffed olives. This flavor combination is an exceptionally good one, but butter may be substituted for the mayonnaise.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Some People Never Learn!

DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine has been in the hospital for several weeks and I have been a constant visitor. There is a nurse there who is the most amazing creature I have ever seen. She can't be over five feet tall and, Abby, she must weigh 300 pounds. I have never seen a woman so fat! Her arms and legs look like they are about ready to burst. When she walks down the hall she waddles like a duck and the building literally quakes. (Old building—wooden floors.)

Doesn't a woman who has studied anatomy and nutrition realize how unhealthy and unsightly her condition is? And why on earth don't some of the nurses or doctors who work with her daily put her wise?

SIMPLY AMAZED
DEAR ABBY: Maybe they've tried. Many people who are overweight have been teased, kidded, scolded, jolted, warned and lectured about their excess blubber, but nothing works. They stuff themselves because they're miserable and they're miserable. Sometimes it takes a head-shrinker to shrink the rest of them.

DEAR ABBY: Many years ago I was 16 and claimed to be 21 because I needed work and looked older and could get away with it.

Well, I'm sorry now because I am going with a man who works where I used to work. He saw my application form which says I am 29 when I am really only 24. He is 25 and he thinks I'm too old for him. How can I convince him that I lied then but am telling the truth now?

NEEDS PROOF
DEAR NEEDS: Show him your birth certificate. That'll prove you weren't born too many yesterdays ago.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a man who has been trying for six years to get a divorce. His wife keeps telling him she will "think it over". She has been "thinking it over" for six years and he is no closer to getting his freedom now than he was six years ago.

He has to live at home for appearance's sake. Every time he mentions divorce she slobbers all over him about how much the children need him. We love each other, Abby. We aren't kids. I am 28 and he is 44 and we both are healthy, normal people in love. What do we do in the meantime?

HIS TRUE LOVE
DEAR LOVE: Nothing.

DEAR ABBY: Tell the bride who was bothered because her neighbor across the hall burnt her husband's toast on purpose she ought to try it herself. I eat my toast burnt black and like it that way. It's good for you. Absorbs stomach gases—just like charcoal.

Know how to prepare kohlrabi? Remove stems, roots and leaves; pare and dice; cook in salted boiling water just until tender. Dress with butter.

If you want to frost a batch of cinnamon rolls that have been baked in a 9-inch pan, you'll find 4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar (moistened with a little milk) is just the amount to use to spread over the top of the rolls.

he found nice holes for runs of 17 and 14 yards to put CHS in scoring position for the first time. With the Tigers braced at the enemy two the ball suddenly squirted into the air only to be grabbed by an alert Bailey for a touchdown. Rudd displaying crunching power from his fullback post rammed over for the extra points and 8-8 deadlock.

CHS bounced into a 14-8 lead mid way in the second stanza as Rudd and McDowell combined to move the ball from their own 48 to the end zone in 10 plays. Rooney went over from one yard out but Rudd's run for points after was stopped.

Paint Valley again came to life by taking the return kickoff 56 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown. Vore's pass to favorite target Depoy carried the final nine yards for the score. Cooper's run for extras was stopped and the score remained, 14 - 14, at halftime.

Circleville's fortunes tumbled to the dark side as Paint Valley took the third quarter kickoff and marched 45 yards for a TD. Cooper ignited the attack by returning the kick to the Tiger 45. The drive gained steam on Vore's loss to Depoy for 20 yards. The same combination pulled a repeat a few plays later for a touchdown to give the hosts a 20-14 advantage. Vore's pass for extras was blocked.

Unhappy with their six-point deficit, the offensive Go Tigers decided it was vital to move out. This time Phil Wing started things going. He ripped off runs of 18 and four yards, the brought a large crowd of home fans to its feet by taking Waple's accurate pass for 36 yards and a touchdown. Rooney's run for points after was halted, but the Tigers had a 20-20 deadlock with almost two quarters to go.

CIRCLEVILLE's next score was set up when Moore intercepted Vore's pass attempt which was partially blocked on a hard rush by defensive end John Williams. McDowell reeled off 15 yards and Wing found daylight for 30 more on a reverse. McDowell then put the Tigers out front to stay on a three yard plunge for six points. Rooney's pass for the extra points was broken up.

An interception by McDowell led to the next CHS score. The Tigers took possession on Paint Valley's 20 and Rudd promptly bulldied his way for 16 yards and McDowell took it over. Rudd's run for points was short, but the Tigers commanded a 32-20 lead.

Circleville held for downs on its own 25 following the kickoff to set the stage for some hard running by Wing. The speedy back zoomed through for runs of 19, 16 and 11 yards to place the ball on the PV four yard line. McDowell crashed through for the TD and Moore dashed around end for two points to give the Rounddowners a comfortable 40-20 margin.

Paint Valley made its last bid to score when Cooper found a hole and raced 55 yards to Circleville's 15 before Rooney overhauled him from behind. The locals then stiffened to hold the Bears' cats on downs.

Moore settled the issue in the final minutes when he dropped far back to haul in Vore's pass, then cut a zig-zag path to the goal. Bob Owens' try for extra points was short just as the final gun sounded.

CHS Coach Carl Benhase commended his Tigers for a team victory. He praised their second half showing, but noted that opening game nerves and inexperience almost took a costly toll in the first half.

BENHASE singled out the cool performance of Quarterback Waple, only a sophomore, and QB Rooney who made the switch this year from a halfback position.

Offensive linemen "Bulldog" Dresbach and "Farmer" Williams were cited for their ability to open holes for the running of McDowell, Rudd and Wing.

Moore, missing all practices this week due to work, was another bright star, especially on defense.

Credit also was given to the all-around work of Bailey, Cook,

Hunters Prep For Squirrel Opener Here

Pickaway County squirrel hunters will take to the woods Monday as the first major hunting season of 1960 opens.

Wildlife personnel report that the squirrel population is good and that hunting should be productive this year if conditions are favorable when the season opens. Squirrel hunting is more fruitful if the woods floor is wet to muffle the sound of hunter's movements.

A 1960 hunting license is necessary. Squirrel season extends through October 31 and hunting is from daylight to dark. The daily bag limit is four squirrels; the possession limit eight.

Squirrel season, listed by many as the most beautiful of the year, is also the most dangerous and hunters are urged to be extremely careful. During the 1959 season, 29 hunting accidents were reported, the highest for any single season, and three of these were fatal.

Parents of young squirrel hunters are urged to have their sons take a hunter safety training course. County game protectors are able to provide information on this subject.

SQUIRREL hunters who do not have a place to hunt are reminded that almost a half million acres of public lands are available for hunting. Most of this acreage is located in the wooded hill country where gray squirrel hunting is the top sport. Fox squirrels are more common in the small woodlots of level, agricultural Ohio.

"Be sure to have a 1960 license, be careful in the woods and enjoy the squirrel hunt," advise Ohio's game men.

"A survey of Ohio farmers attitudes toward hunters and hunting shows that squirrel season causes relatively little trouble."

This was announced by Dale Whitesell, author of the survey and Wildlife District No. 6 game management supervisor, Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Almost half of all farmers contacted reported that squirrel hunters were scarce or huntin pressure was light on their land; 21 per cent reported moderate pressure; 20 per cent no pressure and only seven per cent heavy hunting pressure. Of the farmers who reported that squirrel hunters were "bothersome", almost all cited the opening day as the trouble time."

Steve Helwag and Leonard Eblin.

Circleville played without the services of scabback Garold Dade, an ace sophomore halfback candidate, and Clession Thomas, a bruising 220-pound tackle. Both gridders are out with injuries.

Coaches Benhase and Dick Fisher said McDowell apparently suffered the only injury, a banged up foot. They said extent of the hurt was not immediately determined.

With win No. 1 tucked away, the Tigers already have set their sights on Friday's home opener against the Bulldogs of Athens. Coach Benhase reminded his force that considerable work is needed this week in preparation for the contest.

Oriole Edge Shrinks in Hot AL Race

Baltimore Defeated As Yankees Win With Rookie Hurler

A year ago, Bill Stafford couldn't make the jump from Class A to Triple-A in the minors. But now the big right-hander has won three of four and has the New York Yankees within a half-game of the American League lead again.

Stafford, the only member of the staff to pitch a complete game in New York's last 14 starts, went all the way for the second time in a six-hit, 4-1 victory at Detroit that left the Yankees just one percentage point shy of first-place Baltimore.

The Orioles, who have won two more than New York, dropped a game behind in the "lost" column with a 5-2 defeat by Chicago's third place White Sox. The defending champs trail by 3½ games.

Washington continued a bid for its first finish in the first division since 1946 by belting fifth-place Cleveland 8-2. Kansas City beat Boston 3-2.

In the National League, sub shortstop Dick Schofield's two-run triple, gave Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory over Chicago's Cubs and retained the Pirates' six-game lead. Second-place St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 4-1 in a game held to five innings because of rain. Los Angeles dumped third place Milwaukee 5-3. San Francisco and Cincinnati split a doubleheader, with the Reds taking the nightcap 3-2 after a 4-2 Giant victory.

Stafford, beaten only by the Orioles since coming up from Richmond of the International League last month, blanked the Tigers on four hits until Norm Cash opened the eighth inning with his 17th homer. The 21-year-old rookie who returned to Binghamton of the Class A Eastern League last season after a 1-8 record at Richmond, is in his fourth year of organized ball. He was 11-7 at Richmond this season.

The White Sox beat Orioles ace Chuck Estrada (16-9) with a second-inning run on successive doubles by Al Smith and Ted Kluszewski after Minnie Minoso had singled home two runs in the first.

Bob Shaw (13-12) was the winning pitcher, shutting out the Orioles on three hits until the eighth.

Two homers by Jim Lemon and another by Harmon Killebrew, scored the Senators' first seven runs as they beat Mudcat Grant (9-8) for only the second time in 18 decisions. Lemon drove in five runs with his pair, which gave him a share of the AL home run lead with Maris at 37.

Ramos (11-14) was the winner, blanking the Indians until Vic Power homered in the ninth. Southpaw Bud Daley (14-14), who had lost five in a row and 10 of 11 since the All-Star break, beat Boston and reliever Chet Nichols (0-1) with a three-hitter.

Browns, Bears Set For Test in Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's Browns and the Chicago Bears, 1959 runners-up in the National Football League's eastern and western conferences, respectively, clash in the rubber bowl tonight in their next to last pre-season exhibition game.

The two clubs, with the speed and power to be strong contenders again this fall, are expected to attract a crowd of about 25,000. Chicago has won previous exhibition games against Washington and New York and lost to Green Bay. Cleveland holds triumphs over Pittsburgh, Detroit and San Francisco and was beaten by Los Angeles.

U.S. Making Final Bids For Olympic Gold Medals

ROME (AP)—Wiry Johnny Kelley, the Broton, Conn., school teacher, a pair of hulking weightlifters and the highest-powered Olympic basketball team ever throw America's last gold medal bids today in the last full program of the 1960 games.

Only the basketball team, triggered by Oscar Robertson, Jerry West and Jerry Lucas, seems a certainty to carry it off.

Kelley America's top marathon runner in the last four or five years, is not among the prime favorites for the gruelling 26-mile plus run through Rome that begins at 11:30 a. m., EST. But, the national AAU champion for five years, he leads an American trio that also includes Gordon MacKenzie of New York and Alex Breckenridge of Quantico, Va.

Winner of only one of six classes in weightlifting competition it used to dominate, the United States tries for the heavyweight title with a double entry of 51 year-old Jim Bradford of Washington, D.C., the 1952 olympic runner-up, and Norb Schemansky of Darborn, Mich. the 1952 champion.

In basketball, the United States goes after a gold medal it has never failed to win in a game with Brazil (4:30 p.m., EST). The American all-stars, coached by California's Pete Newell have won seven straight games—keeping intact the U.S. record of never having lost an Olympic basketball game.

The Olympic juggernaut, set in motion Aug. 25, was running down as Sunday's closing ceremonies got closer and the greatest assemblage ever—some 8,000 athletes from 85 countries—had settled all the issues except the shooting, gymnastic, equestrian and weightlifting sports, plus a basketball final.

Russia had collected 38 gold medals, 25 silver and 29 bronze to be the unofficial team champion with 720 points and more yet to come in the closing events.

The United States had acquired 33 gold, 18 silver and 15 bronze, and 529½ points.

Germany was a good, and surprising, third with 10 golds 19 silvers and 11 bronze, and 299½ points.

The closing equestrian competition provided an unexpected spark when the rigors of the jumping course shook up both man and beast.

Four horses from each of 18 nations started the cross-country run over 34.5 kilometers (about 21½ miles). Three horsemen were rushed to a hospital. Two horses had to be destroyed. Sixty per cent of those which finished the grind were hurt in some way. The riders were bruised and skinned.

Tom Gaylord, one of the Canadian riders who was eliminated described the course as "a real killer."

Going into Saturday's final jumping, three Australians were in the lead for both team and individual honors and topping them all was Australia's Lawrence Morgan, riding "Salad Days" to 37.94 points for dressage and endurance ahead of a field of 41 survivors out of the original 73 starters.

Second String Back Is Star

Underdog Denver '11' Upsets Boston 13-10

BOSTON (AP)—Gene Mingo, first of the American Football League's star performers, brought victory to underdog Denver because a teammate was hurt.

The Broncos opened the regular AFL season Friday night by edging 16-point favorite Boston 13-10. Mingo, a 190 pounder who never played college ball, decided the contest on a great 79 yard punt return for a touchdown in the third period.

"Gene wouldn't have been in the regular offensive backfield but Bob McNamara was injured in the first period," smiling Denver coach Frank Filchock explained afterward.

Mingo, a veteran of Marine service football in California, had been an assistant coach at his alma mater, South High in Akron, Ohio. Headed to the Baltimore Colts, Mingo was latched by a letter from the Broncos encouraging him to join the new AFL venture.

Mingo eluded one desperate clutching defender after another on his stirring runback of a Tommy Greene punt.

"We've got no complaints or alibis," Boston coach Lou Saban said. "That one run beat us, it was the difference. And our boys had shots at him."

Commissioner Joe Foss was pleased with the league's kickoff and the reaction of the 21,587 paid customers.

"I'm happy with our start," Foss said. "It was a good, close game and the fans were enthusiastic."

It was the consensus of the players that while the caliber of play was not equal to that of the established National League two or three seasons would see an equal or near-equal rating. Meanwhile, they felt the closeness of competition in the AFL would hold public interest.

International Playoffs Near

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Last call for playoff berths in the International League goes out this weekend, with only one left, and two teams trying to squeeze in.

Rochester clinched the third spot last night with a 5-1 victory over Montreal. Buffalo, a 7-5 winner over first place Toronto, must hold off fifth place Jersey City to clinch fourth place and the final playoff spot.

Jersey City showed no signs of cracking with a 4-3 victory over Columbus while Richmond defeated Miami 3-2.

Orlando Pena (13-11) gave Columbus 13 hits as the Reds snapped a 4-game winning streak by the Jets. Jersey City got two unearned runs in the eighth inning. Ben Daniels lost his ninth straight for Columbus.

336 Bowlers Keep Eye On $19,480 in Cash

CHICAGO (AP)—A record field of 336 bowlers making up 168 teams, open qualifying play today in the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America men's doubles match game championships.

After two days of qualifying play, eight teams will be selected to bowl in the finals which will be held Monday and Tuesday. Prizes totaling $19,480 will be at stake.

Special Trips Awarded to 4-H Members

Two Pickaway County youths have been awarded special trips in connection with 4-H organizations.

Judith Ann Dennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dennis, Mt. Sterling has been selected to receive one of four all expense paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 27 to December 1. Two boys and two girls are selected from the state to receive these trips, sponsored by the Ohio State Fair.

Miss Dennis was selected on her superior leadership ability as demonstrated in 4-H club and other community activities. She has been active in her 4-H club for eight years and is a member of the Monroe Stitches and Baskets 4-H Club. Miss Dennis is also a sophomore at Ohio University and is majoring in Home Economics.

ANDREW DUVALL, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Duvall, Route 1, Ashville, was selected to receive a two week expense paid trip to Camp Minnikanka, near Stoney Lake, Michigan. The two weeks at Camp is sponsored by the Ralston Purina Co.

Duvall was selected through an interview by the 4-H Awards Committee at the Ohio State Fair. Two 4-H members were selected from the state for this trip, the other winner is Carol Jeffery, Paulding Co.

Duvall will attend the training camp at Camp Minnikanka next summer. He is a member of the Madison Livewires and Pickaway County Soil Savers. Duvall will enter OSU this fall in the College of Engineering as a freshman.

According to one estimate, more than 100 companies make fluids and gadgets to assist a backyard chef in lighting a charcoal fire.

Most mixed good and choice spring lambs 16.00-18.50, utility and good grades numerous at 13.00-15.00, several decks good and choice 14-16 lb short fed yearlings with fall short pelts 15.75-16.25, ewe to choice short slaughter ewes 3.50-4.50, few 4.75.

Conservancy

The 10th District Court of Appeals Sept. 28, and the courts decision probably will be the next chapter in the long, troubled history of the district.

The result of Friday's meeting is that the district appears doomed and only awaits a decision of the 10th District Court of Appeals to announce the official death knell.

Mayor Westlake, as did the representatives of the southern area of the district, felt a conservancy district would be workable if it were smaller and more compact. They argued it would be easier to reduce the size of the district than to disband and start anew through an entire initiating procedure.

Representatives of the northern section of the district—which extends from the Ohio River to Lake Erie—contended they also desired a smaller type of district so why should they not be entitled to take advantage of the present organization?

They could not see the southern counties moving along with a ready-made organization while they would have to start all over. Several attempts were made to adopt a resolution to ask the appellate court to remand the conservancy case back to the district court but each failed.

The southern county representatives help kill these proposals by contending they would have to dismiss present suits and would have no recourse to appeal.

A move to determine if the present district could not be divided into two districts also failed when it was argued that this would involve a delay until the next session of the State Legislature passed such enabling laws.

U.S. Latin Aid Plan Stalled by Snag

BOGOTA Colombia (AP)—
Final drafting of a U.S.-backed plan to funnel $500 million into Latin America's economy struck a snag today that may delay the windup of the Inter-American Economic Conference.

Informed sources said some of the 21 nations taking part in the parley want the plan to spell out the some of the purposes for which the social development fund can be used.

A nine-nation working group which wrestled for hours Friday night with the final draft of the "Act of Bogota" will try again today to get it into shape.

Traveler in Strange Hotel Can Always Find Gideon Bible

CHICAGO (AP)—One of the few things the traveler may count on when checking into a strange hotel is that, among the stationery laundry slips and dust of the dresser drawer, he will find a black-bound Bible, King James version.

It may appear used and worn, or new and untouched. It may contain letters, notes or, on occasion, a $10-bill. For some it may have been a source of inspiration, for others a paperweight.

It's one of 44 million Bibles distributed by the Gideon Association since the first one was left in a room of the Superior Hotel in Iron Mountain, Mont., in November 1908. The name of Iron Mountain since has been changed to Superior.

That was about 10 years after the inspiration for the association came to three traveling men in Wisconsin—John H. Nicholson of Janesville Samuel E. Hill of Beloit and William J. Knights of Wild Rose. The Gideons—officially the Christian Commercial Men's Association of America—was founded July 1, 1899, in Janesville.

Today the Gideons, whose mission is to spread Christianity on a man-to-man basis wherever traveling men meet, spend nearly one million dollars a year on their Bible distribution program. Although the association engages in other, less expensive evangelical activities, Bible handouts have become, in effect, the trade mark.

The scriptures go not only to hostels, but to school children, nurses, prisoners and servicemen throughout the United States and 53 foreign nations. Light blue Bibles with the owner's name stamped in gold are presented to cabinet members, congressmen, supreme court justices and governors.

To be a Gideon—there are 12,000 of them in 800 camps around the nation—requires membership in a Protestant church. It also requires holding a supervisory or administrative position in business.

Gideon activities are financed by donations and church offerings as well as the $15 annual membership fee. Operations are co-ordinated by international headquarters in Chicago and by an unpaid four-man international cabinet elected by the membership at annual conventions.

Who was Gideon? He was a biblical figure—an Israelite hero who, with a small band of followers, defeated the Midianites and ruled Israel for 40 years.

"He was a man," says R. V. Heringlake, office manager of the Chicago headquarters, "willing to do exactly what God wanted him to do."

Police Check 31 Accidents

Circleville Police investigated a total of 31 accidents in the city during August.

Officers said 15 persons were injured, although no fatalities were recorded.

The accident total included 25 involving motor vehicles, three bicycles, two pedestrians and one case of an auto striking a fixed object.

The hour when the most accidents occurred was at 2 p. m., with five coming at that time. Tuesday was the worst day with seven mishaps.

TEN of the accidents involved drivers between the ages of 25-34. Nine were in the 35-44 bracket. Male drivers again led the crash list, with 40 involved. Female drivers numbered 13. Nine males and four females were injured.

Riding Club To Sponsor Charity Show

The Circle Valley Riding Club will sponsor a Charity Horse Show September 18, at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. The show will begin at noon.

The proceeds from the show will go to the Pickaway County Children's Home, and will be used towards the purchase of a new shelter house.

Only One Death

A sheriff's deputy said the remainder of about 305 persons had elected to stay on the islands and ride out the wind.

Other beach areas on the southwest coast were evacuated. At Fort Myers shelters were opened at schools, the City Hall and the Court House.

Word of the night of horror on the exposed and low-lying Keys trickled out by highway patrol and amateur radio.

The Weather Bureau and police had begged the Keys residents to evacuate but many chose to take their chances.

Miami was buffeted all night long by winds near hurricane force. The beating continued this morning, felling trees and utility poles, knocking out electric power in many sections, flooding streets, breaking windows and destroying billboards.

The 104 foot Liberian freighter was caught by a wind gust of better than 70 miles an hour and tossed up on an island beach 20 miles southeast of Miami.

All 11 aboard were safe but the skipper complained it wasn't very nautical to have a motel on his port side and trees on his starboard. There was no immediate damage report.

Over 12,000 residents of low-lying areas took refuge in public shelters in South Florida. Two of the shelters—an armory at Homestead and a school building on the Keys—lost parts of their roofs to Donna but no evacuees were hurt.

Miami Beach authorities barred all but residents and those with legitimate business from visiting the area this morning. Water was two or three feet deep in some streets along the ocean and many broken glass.

Donna's vicious slap at the Keys was in character. The mighty storm so far has taken 116 lives and done millions of dollars in property damage in its progress across the Atlantic.

Most of the dead were in Puerto Rico but Donna also claimed victims in the Leeward Islands.

Some weathermen think that in its infancy the hurricane struck another which crashed in a driving wind and squall off the African Coast. That Aug. 29 disaster claimed 63 lives.
